Students are graded on a term paper that requires attendance at a major art museum during the semester. This is an example of course grading breakdowns: Class Attendance 10%; Participation 10%; mid-term exam 25%; final exam 25%; term paper 30%.

COURSE CONTENT:

This course is designed for those who are unfamiliar with the terminology and history of art to gain an appreciation for and understanding of art and its special visual language. By the end of the course, students will not only have an increased appreciation for all kinds of visual art, but be able to write and seek critically about what they see; be able to evaluate a painting or sculpture in terms of the visual criteria provided them in the course; and gain an understanding of the major periods of the history of art.

The course material is divided into three general areas of artistic knowledge. The first third of the course explores the vocabulary, both linguistic and visual, of the visual arts. The student will learn about the visual elements that constitute a work of art, including line, color, space, design, iconography, and style. The second third of the course will introduce students to the most important media of the visual arts, including painting, photography, sculpture, and architecture. Guest speakers may be invited, at the discretion of the instructor. The final third of the course provides an historical framework for relating works of art to their time periods. Students will complete oral presentations on selected milestones from the history of art.

Weeks 1-5: Introduction to the meaning, themes, and purposes of art
Chapters 1 – 5: Introduction to the visual Elements
